

Don't you have things you would rather be doing?

Darrell Bradshaw

Do you have things you'd rather be doing than cleaning your home or office? If you have a busy lifestyle or other priorities like spending quality time with your kids, cleaning is a chore that's easily avoided. And there are times in your life when a little domestic help can even save you from domestic conflict!

Jim's Cleaning started in 1994 and is now in the Coffs Harbour, Sawtell, Woolgoolga & surrounding areas, the Jim's Cleaning Group has rapidly grown into a dedicated team of nearly 200 franchisees right across Australia. In fact, they are the second largest division of the trusted Jim's Group, proudly the biggest home services group in the world.

All Jim's customers are guaranteed a professional, trustworthy cleaner, who has all-inclusive insurance cover and has undergone extensive security checks before entering your home.

The Jim's Cleaning team also use their own equipment so it's not a hassle for you to have the right gear, and most of the cleaning agents are made from natural and biodegradable ingredients to care for your family & home.

The cleaning business is a huge industry and Jim's Cleaning is the best known one. Demand is growing every day as more and more people run out of time to fit the household chores into their lifestyle.

As well as expert domestic cleaning, the Jim's professional also provides a wide range of other services, including office & commercial cleaning, builders cleans, windows, ovens, carpets and even pressure cleaning. They are also well recognised in the real estate game, and offer superior rates and service for 'vacate' and moving in cleans, when it comes time for your family to move house.

The Jim's team of franchisees are all passionate about their work, and about looking after your home and family as if it were their own. Because it is their own business, franchisees work locally, and place the highest importance on not only meeting, but exceeding, their customer's expectations.
